

WASHINGTON POST
AND TIMES HERALD

APR 1 1964

FOIAb3b

Swedish Colonel Faces Trial as Spy for Soviet

Reuters

STOCKHOLM, March 31 (Reuters) — defense headquarters and the Swedish Foreign Ministry in Stockholm between October, 1957, and June, 1963, and sold them to Russian intelligence.

The former air force attache faces a possible life sentence if he is found guilty.

The indictment alleged that Wennerstroem:

- Sold information on Swedish defense to Russian intelligence while serving as air attache in Moscow from 1949 to 1952.

- Sold photographs of Swedish defense documents to Russian intelligence while serving as air attache in Washington between April, 1952, and May, 1957.

- Obtained and photographed documents on Swedish defense while working at

CPYRGHT